

Crafting Comedy:

Humour as a Tool of Decolonization

In this workshop, you'll explore both the building blocks of humour, joke-writing, and comedy as well as your own individual lived experiences, perspectives, and ideas to exercise your comedic muscles with Writer-in-Residence Frances Koncan.

Some say comedy is an innate gift that only a select few possess... others say it's a skill that anyone can learn. Maybe it's a little bit of both!
