

Community Lecture Series

The Global World

The Winter Community Lecture Series is centered around the theme, The Global World, featuring discussions on topics of global significance. These include, but are not limited to, climate, politics, community, business, science, art, and history.

All events held at The Cornish Library and are free to the public.

Winter 2025 Season

Sergio Camorlinga | Applied Computer Science

Generative Artificial Intelligence Technologies – A Human Threat or an Overhyped Fad?

February 27th | 6:00-7:00 p.m.

Overview of Artificial Intelligence (AI) technologies with a focus on Generative AI, its capabilities and limitations. A high-level review will be discussed of how it works and some thoughts how it may impact products and services, employment and our society in general.