

Tracing Five Centuries of Ancestors in Britain

Join genealogist Elizabeth Briggs to review the types of documents relevant to genealogical research in Britain from the sixteenth to the twentieth century. Learn how to access these documents and add their information to your family tree. Other sources covered will include early maps, and both church and government records.

Online

Wednesday, January 29: 5:30-7:30 p.m.

A Zoom link to attend will be sent when you register.

Free. To register, phone, visit or go online at winnipeg.ca/library.

