

the nature of things

Join the team behind CBC's The Nature of Things for a free community screening and discussion

Presented by CBC and Winnipeg Public Library

Join The Nature of Things co-host Sarika Cullis-Suzuki, executive Sue Dando and filmmakers to learn behind-the-scenes secrets of this iconic Canadian series. Watch highlights from multiple episodes followed by panel discussions offering insights into the making of the episodes, followed by Q&A with the audience.

This event will be moderated by CBC Manitoba's Bryce Hoyer and is a rare opportunity to hear from some of the people who make The Nature of Things and to get an insiders' view on one of CBC television's longest running science and nature documentary series. Learn about the challenges and rewards of making these important films, and how they can help to broaden perspectives of our world and inspire action.

This event will be moderated by CBC Manitoba's Bryce Hoyer.

Millennium Library, 251 Donald St.

Thursday, March 14: 5-7 p.m. (Doors open at 4:30 pm.)

About the Speakers:

Sue Dando is a production executive at CBC's The Nature of Things. She has been with the show for over 10 years, and has produced some of its most iconic episodes.

Sarika Cullis-Suzuki is a co-host of CBC's The Nature of Things. She is a marine biologist and science communicator.

Bryce Hoyer is a multi-platform journalist covering news, science, justice, health, 2SLGBTQ issues and other community stories.

Learn more about resources to take action on Winnipeg Public Library's Green Choices Info Guide at:

guides.wpl.winnipeg.ca/greenchoices.

Free. To register, visit winnipeg.ca/library

