

Introduction to Genealogy

Online genealogist Elizabeth Briggs will demonstrate in this 2-part series how to collect and organize family records, using free online software for genealogists as well as describe the various types of genealogical resources available to trace your ancestors. She will also cover how to plan for writing your family history book, what resources and documents to use, the kind of content that should be included, and how to make questionnaires and interview your relatives to gather the best information.

Online event. A Zoom link to attend will be sent when you register.

Introduction to Genealogy: Collecting and Organizing Family Records

Wednesday, September 16:
5:30-7:30 p.m.

Introduction to Genealogy: Writing your Family History

Wednesday, September 23:
5:30-7:30 p.m.

Free. To register, scan the QR code,
or visit winnipeg.ca/library