Hi-Lo Books

Hi-Lo stands for “High Interest, Low Readability.” These books are designed to be engaging by exploring age-appropriate, complex themes while being written at a lower reading level. They can be any genre. They typically have simple sentences, and a short page count. These features combined with the exciting, often fast-moving pace are meant to help readers build their comprehension and fluency. Many of these books are published in dyslexia friendly fonts and are often enjoyed by neurodivergent readers.
